

Dear Wifey,

I have no clue when we are going to meet, but when we do I hope we will be perfect for each other. I hope that you will be funny, will not cheat, that you are pure of heart, and that you love me as much as I love you. I hope that we will be able to have a wonderful life together. I think that we will if you follow all of these qualities that I would like you to have (not to sound bossy or anything ☺).

Believe me; I will definitely try to live up to your expectations. I will try to make our marriage the best that it can be. If you don't cheat on me I think that we can have a very strong marriage. I cannot even count how many relationships are ruined because one of the people decides to cheat on the other.

I think that if you're funny we'll have a lot of fun times. I find myself funny so this is one thing that says we are perfect for each other.

If you're pure of heart I know that we won't need to worry about having sex too early and for no reason. Sex is only for making a family, even though society doesn't depict it that way. Please know that I am saving myself for you (because you're totally worth it!).

If you love me as much as I love you I think that we will have a great marriage. I will love you with all my heart and that will make our relationship great. This is my letter to you, my future wife. I can't wait to meet you some day!

Love,
