Instructions: With your fellow group members, use your theological knowledge to try and answer some of the Biblical Stumper questions below. Write down any good answers you come up with and feel free to make educated guesses if needed (bullet-pointed notes are fine).

5 pts.

1. Are all the stories in the Bible really true? Some of the stories (like when Jonah gets swallowed by a whale) seem a little far-fetched...

2. When we say the Bible is "God's Word," does that mean that God actually wrote it? Didn't He use men to write it?

3. After 2,000 years, how do we know that the Bible we have today is the same one that the first Christians used?

4. Aren't there contradictions in the Bible, for example, about how Judas died? (One story says Judas hung himself, and the other says his stomach burst open) How can the Church say the Bible has no errors?

5. What's the difference between the bibles that most Protestants use, like the King James version, and Catholic bibles?
